

This vacancy is for a qualified housing/community care lawyer for a maternity cover. We are looking for a solicitor who has the ability to run a complex housing law caseload. Knowledge of migrant support law / community care law would be an advantage.

We will consider applications from lawyers with three years or more post qualification experience. You would have your own case load, a proven track-record of meeting billing targets and an ability to bring in work. All our casework is supervised internally at regular intervals. The types of cases you would work on would depend upon the needs of the firm as well as your experience and interests.

Salary is negotiable and will be dependent on experience as per our salary scale. The firm also operates a bonus scheme.
