Managing 2018 Civil and Family Legal Aid Contracts

Date:

16 October 2017

The LAA aims to start new contracts on 1 September 2018. This course will cover what you need to do to submit a successful tender. It will also consider the 2018 civil and family contract, focusing on the new requirements to ensure you understand them and don't get tripped up. We will look at topical issues in legal aid funding and the LAA's evidence requirements to ensure that you pass LAA audits.

Time:

1.30pm-5.15pm

The course offers practical guidance and support. Legal aid expert, Vicky Ling, will lead a practical and interactive course that aims to empower legal aid practitioners, helping them obtain contracts for 2018 and manage the difficult times ahead in the ever changing world of civil legal aid.

'... admirably clear on some very tricky points, There should be at least one copy in every office where legal aid work is carried out.' Carol Storer, director, LAPG

Now the only comprehensive guide to the legal aid scheme, the LAG Legal Aid Handbook 2017/18 is the one book no legal aid lawyer can afford to be without. It covers the legal framework of the scheme, with full discussion of civil, criminal and family legal aid and analysis of the leading caselaw since LASPO.
